Dying Negro Released and South Richmond Man Put Under Probation.

BOARD MEETING POSTPONED

Military Body Session Deferred. Gain in Realty Values in Montgomery.

Executive elemency was extended yesterday by Governor Mann to two convicts. One of these is a negro murderer, dying with tuberculosis, and the other is a jailbird needed by his family, and who is released on probation.

tamily, and who is released on probation.

The long-term man is alex. Perkins, convicted in the Corporation Court of the city of Roanoke of murder in the second degree, and given ten years in the pentientiary. He has served about two years of that term.

Statements from physicians are to the effect that Perkins is practically dying at the State Farm, and may not live to reach his home. One of them expresses the opinion that he may last a week. He would probably have been released earlier, but for the fact that there was nowhere to send him. Now, however, a brother will care for him until the end.

It is not believed that the delay will injure any interest save perhaps the proposition on the part of local military surgeons to have an appropriation made to help entertain the Association of Military Surgeons of the United States, which meets in Richmond next week.

The apportionment of military funds, with consideration of the maval militar and camp site matters, can come up later.

GAIN IN MONTGOMERY

Southwest County Has successe is Value of Real Estate.

Montgomery county, according to the reports filed in the office of the Auditor of Public Accounts, shows a gain of $374,804, or 13.5 per cent. In the value of its real property. This increase is somewhat below the average for the entire State.

The exact figures are: 1909, $2,025.076; 1911, $2,393,830.

Very few of the new assessment books are now out, although a few

NEGROES WOULD VOTE

League Urges Colored Mem to Qualify for Citisenship.

For the purpose of inducing as many as possible of the colored men of the Third Congressional District to qualify themselves as voters, a convention will soon be called for organization of a league. Headquarters have been established in the Mechanics' Savings Bank, and circular letters are being lissued.

Charles Johnson, Jr., is corresponding secretary, and Benjamin P. Vandervall is president. A letter mailed to the colored men of the district calls attention to the desirability of the members of the race qualifying for clitzenship, "until our numerical strength shall be a factor in the affairs of every locality."

Information as to registration and payment of poli tax will be furnished by the officers, but the letter does not explain how the would-be voters are to "get by" the registrars.

Two Fire Alarms

Two fire Alarms.
Two fires were reported yesterday afternoon, but neither did much damage. The first alarm was rung in from South Richmond. The second, a still, was rung in from Box 512. The fire was at $37 West Grace Street. The damage was practically nothing, and the flames were soon extinguished.

Fell In the River.

Joseph Jackson drank too much last night and fell in the river at the foot of Twelfth Street, when he was rescued by some stranger who didn't wait for thanks. Then Jackson was arrested on the charge of being drunk. He was taken to the First Police Station, where he was dried and put up for the night.

BATTALION DRILL

Blues Have Dose of Hard Work, Followed by No Social Session.
"Nothing but work" characterized the battalion drill of the Richmond Light Infantry Blues at the armory last night. It was an occasion for exertion and not for fun, and there was exertion in large doses.

Unlike the previous battalion drills of the season, the men were garbed in service uniform of olive drab, with caps, and not in full dress. But few spectators were perched in the gallerles, and, with no social session to look forward to, the men want at their lask with an eye strictly to business and not with a view to applause from the grandstand.

For an hour and a half the battalion was put through its paces by Major E. W. Bowles, all sorts and descriptions of military evolutions being gone through with All three companies did unusually good work. No dance followed.

Two Arrests Made.

Harrison Butler, colored, was arrested last night on a charge of felonicusly assaulting with a knife Thomas James, and another warrant charges him with holding up and stealing $5 from Thomas Jackson.
